PFAI 2022: PHILOSOPHY FOR ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

University of West Bohemia, Dec. 7-8, 2022

PROGRAM

Wednesday, December 7

09:00 Registration and coffee

10:00 David Šanc: Opening Remarks by the Dean of the Faculty of Arts

10:10 Hamid Ekbia: Artificial Intelligence: The Possible, The Impossible, and The Real
Keynote talk

11:15 Coffee break

11:30 Michal Vavrečka: Searching for Meaning
Commentary: Michal Polák

12:30 Ondřej Beran: *Make Every Day National Awkward Moments Day:
The Importance of Being Artificially Stupid for Promoting the Cause of AI*
Commentary: Pavel Ircing

13:30 Lunch

15:00 Victor Lacerda Botelho: *The Philosophical Investigations as a Blueprint for AI:
A Proposed Reading*
Commentary: Radek Schuster

16:00 Josef Moural: The Chineses Room, Once Again
Commentary: Jan Zelinka

17:00 Coffee break

17:30 Chiara Manganini*: A Sceptical Paradox for Computation*
Commentary: Stefanie Dach

18:30 Jan Romportl: The Future of AI: Why to Rejoice and Fear at the Same Time
Commentary: Pavel Ircing

19:30 Social gathering in the Library, buffet dinner

Thursday, December 8

10:00 Aída Ponce Del Castillo: Autonomy of the User/Human Operator
Commentary: Hamid Ekbia

11:00 Daniela Vacek: AI Responsibility: Beyond the Individual
Commentary: Juraj Hvorecký

12:00 Coffee break

12:30 Peter Reichl: Promethean Gap 2.0: What AI Can (and Should) Learn from Günther Anders
Commentary: Stefanie Dach

13:30 Lunch

15:00 Tomáš Hříbek: How I Learned How to Stop Worrying about the Hard Problem and Love Real Robotics
Commentary: Michal Polák

16:00 Michael Funk: The Philosophical Roots of AI-Ethics
Commentary: Miloš Kratochvíl

17:00 Coffee break

17:30 Lenka Hámošová: Sensing the Synthetic
Workshop and a Sharing Circle on Somaesthetic Perspective of Co-creation with AI

19:30 Social gathering in the Library, buffet dinner